

'89 Kevlacat 5.2m Tournament

You are about to read a report on what is possibly the biggest little boat in the world – the Queensland built Kevlacat 5.2 Tournament.

This is the boat that recently won the 1989 Queensland Trailer Boat of the Year Award, and is the same craft that encouraged queues of keen fishermen to stand in line to get a closer look during last month's Sydney International Boat Show.

It is also TBF's project vessel for 1989 and beyond, because already, we're convinced it will be a long time before someone comes up with a better 17-footer.

Unchanged, as first published, written by Peter Webster and photographed by Jeff Webster around July 1989
