

Earlando and Dingo Beach, Qld

Introducing one of the less well known boating and fishing regions tucked away on the Whitsunday Coast of north Queensland. Hidden from the glare of publicity from its high profile neighbours (the islands and resorts of the Whitsunday Passage) this relatively untouched region has much to offer boating and fishing families. Best of all, it is another area where the small boat owner and/or budget-conscious boating family is in no way disadvantaged by the environment or the infrastructure of accommodation & living costs
