

Ay, Karumba!

Once again we join those two 'silly ol' farts' in the good ship "Pedro" for another adventure over two parts, in the far north. This time, our two Sarina based adventurers have decided to head for Karumba, a small mining, fishing and crabbing community on the inside (SE) edge of the Gulf of Carpentaria. In this first leg, they describe how they got there. Next month, we find out what makes Karumba special.

Overnight camp en-route to Karumba

Aerial of the township of Karumba, on the Norman River

The launch ramp at Karumba

Story and local pics by Neil Dunstan. Aerial pics & others by arrangement with Tourism Queensland.

