

Ay, Karumba!

Once again we join those two 'silly ol' farts' in the good ship "Pedro" for another adventure in the far north. This time, our two Sarina based adventurers have decided to head for Karumba, a small mining, fishing and crabbing community on the inside (SE) edge of the Gulf of Carpentaria. In this, their second leg, they describe their voyage nearly 100 miles up the inside (eastern) side of the Gulf.

Not crab for lunch - again !

Living aboard a crabber's boat on the Eastern side of the Gulf.

The launch ramp at Karumba

Story and local pics by Neil Dunstan. Aerial pics & others by arrangement with Tourism Queensland.

