

Bob Rowe's 3.4 Tinny: One Man's Boat For 2

It is said that "Greater love hath no man, than he has for his . . . tinny!" and in Bob Rowe's case, there's no little truth in that statement. Most of us understand his passion; many of us share it in one form or another. And we all admire that special sense of commitment and purpose projects like these bring out in fishermen across the land . . . here, Bob hones the virtues of simplicity as he creates a dedicated fishing platform . . . that works. (Special Note: Check Bob's underfloor lockers!)