

The THIRD leg of Aaron's new 'How To' Series on the mackerels and wahoo!

WAHOO!

Special Report & Pics by F&B
Fishing Editor, Aaron Concorde
(On one of his favourite species!)

The mackerel clan boast some of the most highly regarded target species around the entire tropical and sub-tropical coastlines of Australia. Although the wahoo is not, strictly speaking, part of the mackerel family, they are incredibly close - being of similar size, disposition, shape, locations, environments, taste and not least, their ferocity.

Gentlemen, tighten your leaders - and hang on!

Big eyes, bad teeth and all barred up!
