

Trailerboating For Giant Black Marlin!

David Crocos wanted to catch a marlin. Not just any marlin on a charter - he wanted to go up to the Ribbons in his Cruise Craft 533 and nail a grander. The ultimate challenge. And he wanted to do it alone. Some would say he was crazy. Some would say it was far too dangerous in a trailerboat. But David knew it was possible, and arguably, the ultimate in extreme fishing . . .
